

Black History Month Celebrations

During the month of October, staff and students at Parkside celebrated Black History Month by incorporating Black history into lessons, assemblies and debate sessions. Information posters were put up around the College with facts about famous Black people throughout history to promote discussion and further highlight their achievements. Students used the time in their options lessons to research Black history that played a significant role in their chosen option.

At the end of the month, staff and students came together for a celebration assembly and students showcased the knowledge that they had acquired through research in their options lessons. It was a very insightful month. Hair and Beauty students discovered how rice was hidden and transported in cornrows; Sport students spoke about sports personalities such as Ngalo Kante, who lives a very simple life despite being the winner of two Premier League titles; Media students highlighted how Samuel L Jackson is a prolific film star that did not let his stutter hold him back from achieving stardom; Hospitality students discussed the different food items and dishes from different parts of Africa, which they compared with the dishes they had tried or eat at home. The month proved to be informative and students enjoyed celebrating the impact of Black heritage, culture and achievement.

The Vaccination Programme and Testing

The Secretary of State for Education, Nadhim Zahawi, has written an open letter to parents, guardians and carers about the importance of students aged 12 to 15 getting their coronavirus vaccination and how this has been made easier. The letter provides information into the new option for students now being able to book their vaccinations locally at a centre using the NHS book a vaccination service, as well as the option to have it at college. ### Individual Student Photographs

All orders placed for the individual student photographs have been received by the College and have been distributed to the students this week to take home. Unfortunately, the deadline date for orders to receive free delivery back to the College has now passed. For those who still wish to place an order will need to do so directly to Fraser Portraits; this will now incur an additional surcharge of £4.00 per pack which will be sent directly to your home address. If you have any queries, please contact the College.
